

Final Program of the Workshop

“Matching in Practice”

June 16–17, 2014

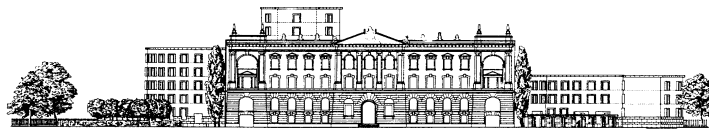

Location: WZB, Reichpietschufer 50, 10785 Berlin
Room A310

Organizers:

Estelle Cantillon
(ECARES)

Julien Grenet
(CNRS/Paris School of Economics)

Dorothea Kübler
(WZB/TU Berlin)

Monday, June 16, 2014

12.30 – 1.30 Registration and lunch

1.30 – 3.45 School choice: Empirics

Monique de Haan, Pieter Gautier, Hessel Oosterbeek, and Bas van der Klaauw

Matching pupils to secondary schools in Amsterdam: An empirical evaluation using administrative and survey data

Anna Makles and Kerstin Schneider

Much ado about nothing? The role of primary school catchment areas for ethnic school segregation. Evidence from a policy reform

Gabrielle Fack, Julien Grenet, and Yinghua He

Estimating preferences in school choice mechanisms: Theoretical foundations and empirical approaches

3.45 – 4.15 Coffee break

4.15 – 5.45 Welfare in matching mechanisms

Li Chen

Centralized university admissions with information

Isa Hafalir and Antonio Miralles

Welfare-maximizing assignment of agents to hierarchical positions

7.00 Dinner

Tuesday, June 17, 2014

9.30 – 11.15 Preference manipulation in school choice mechanisms

Timo Mennle and Sven Seuken

The adaptive Boston mechanism

David Cantala and Juan Sebastian Pereyra

The effects of preferences manipulations under the Boston mechanism

Umut Dur and Onur Kesten

Appeals process in New York City high school match

11.15 – 11.45 Coffee break

11.45 – 12.45 Round table discussion: University admissions in Germany

Dr. Matthias Bode, Stiftung für Hochschulzulassung, Dortmund

Dr. Alexander Rindfleisch, Technische Universität Berlin, Referat für
Zulassung und Immatrikulation (to be confirmed)

Moderator: Yinghua He

12.45 Lunch and end of workshop

